GBCI Course ID: 920000615

Length: 1 Hour

Credits: 1 AIA HSW CE Hour &
1 GBCI CE Hour for LEED Professionals or
1 LEED Specific BD+C

Course Title: Product Disclosure and the Future of Design

Description

In this 1-hour course, design professionals will examine how product declarations allow for more informed design decisions. We will explore the rapidly evolving landscape of Life Cycle Assessment (LCA), Environmental Product Declarations (EPD), and Transparency Reports (TR). The benefits and limitations of each type of product declaration will be examined with regards to declaring a product's environmental impacts, as well as how each type of declaration contributes to points in the Materials and Resources category of LEED version 4. Finally, we will identify several resources that design professionals can use to find available declarations for building products.

Learning Objectives

Upon completion of this course, the design professional will be able to:

1. Recognize the value of product declarations in making informed design choices.
2. Describe the different types of product declarations, and differentiate between EPDs and TRs.
3. Understand how different types of declarations can contribute towards LEED certification.
4. Identify resources for locating publicly available declarations.

Method of Delivery

The course is offered to design professionals in a webinar setting.
